AFCI LOCATIONS SHOW

Four New Mexico film offices participated in one exhibitor booth at the 2014 AFCI Locations Tradeshow at the end of March in Century City: the Albuquerque, Santa Fe, Otero and the State film offices. A special thanks to Don Gray, Locations Coordinator for the State Film Office, whose innovation led New Mexico to receive another marketing reward, this time a first prize for the most creative exhibit. (Need a hint for our booth theme? Watch the French film Amélie!) During the show, Senior Production Manager, Tobi Ives, received the AFCI Dancy Jones Scholarship to attend Cineposium in New York this October. In a trifecta, the event ended with the City of Albuquerque Film Office winning the award for Outstanding Film Commission during the first annual Location Managers Guild of America Awards. AFCI President, George David, presented Ann Lerner with the award on behalf of the Guild, emphasizing their exceptional assistance and their facilitation with the permitting processes for the City, specifically Breaking Bad and Lone Survivor. Congratulations to Ann Lerner and Carrie Wells!
