Welcome to the New Mexico Film Office (NMFO) monthly e-newsletter! We are winding down from this year's NM Film & Media Industry Conference that took place at Hotel Albuquerque at the end of last month. Thank you to all who participated and attended!

We are now getting ready for our Education Summit that is planned to be held in Albuquerque early to mid September. Look for more information on the Education Summit in the coming weeks at nmfilm.com.

Production Report

PRODUCTION ACTIVITY

With three television series and two features in principal, the summer is looking to remain busy. There are two additional series gearing up along with six major and low budget features. For a list of productions that have been announced by the production company, please visit nmfilm.com.

Outreach Report

NM FILM & MEDIA INDUSTRY CONFERENCE RECAP

Hotel Albuquerque, May 30-31, 2014

This year's conference was a huge success with 300+ attendees and 75 exhibitors. We had an amazing group of panelists and presenters, to include Luke Ryan, CEO of The Alchemists and Harris Tulchin, author of Independent Film Producer's Survival Guide: A Business and Legal Sourcebook, as well as some of our friends from Longmire. A special thanks to Longmire cast member, Bailey Chase, for joining in just hours after the arrival of his new baby girl. Congrats, Bailey!

Panelist and presenter bios and Mr. Tulchin's luncheon presentation can be downloaded at nmfilm.com.

2014 EDUCATION SUMMIT

The next Education Summit will be held in Albuquerque early to mid September. This event provides NM educators within the film and media industry an opportunity to collaborate in a flexible setting, fostering communication between NM educational institutions and creating avenues to disseminate information to students who are exploring this industry.
