March 13, 2012, SANTA FE—The New Mexico Film Office today announced a Town Hall meeting scheduled to take place in Gallup on Monday, April 23, 2012. The Town Halls follow the first series of town hall meetings that took place in Las Cruces, Ruidoso, Roswell and Raton. Film Office director Nick Maniatis will discuss the state of the New Mexico film industry – including an update about legislation, the outlook going forward, and the opportunities available to New Mexicans. The meetings are also intended to provide an open forum for each community to share information about their educational programs, film related businesses, and issues of concern. The Town Halls are free and open to all, including students, local filmmakers, businesses, and the general public. The NM Film Office is collaborating with local film liaisons, schools and chambers of commerce in conducting these events. The schedule is as follows:
