New Mexico Film Office Announces Sci-Fi Short Film, “Mary Margaret Road-Grader,” Wraps Production

Santa Fe, NM - Amber Dodson, the New Mexico State Film Office Director, announced today that the short film, “Mary Margaret Road Grader,” completed filming in December around Santa Fe.

The film is directed by Steven Paul Judd (“Dark Winds”), produced by George R.R. Martin (“Game of Thrones”), and starring Crystle Lightning (“Outlander”), Martin Sensenier (“Yellowstone”), and Cody Lightning (“Search for the Best Indian Taco”). “Mary Margaret Road Grader,” a post-apocalyptic indigenous tale of a future with no horses, brings to life the short story written by Howard Waldrop. In the time following the highway wars, scores are settled with machines in the arena. Battle stakes are high for the best operator as they fight for life, death, honor, and VIN tags.

“Howard Waldrop’s story of love, steel, and carnage come to life through Executive Producer George R.R. Martin and is a short story like none other,” Judd explained.

The production employed approximately 69 New Mexico crew members, 107 background actors and extras, and 11 New Mexico principal actors.
