The New Mexico Film Office Announces “Does Your Heart Break?” to film in New Mexico

The New Mexico State Film Office today announced that the short, “Does Your Heart Break?” produced by Film Las Cruces Studio and does your Heart Break Film LLC will begin principal photography mid-May in Last Cruces.

The production will employ approximately 30-40 New Mexico crew members, 4 New Mexico actors and 15-30 New Mexico background talent.

The short is directed by Carlos Carlos Jr. and produced by Naomi N. Gonzalez.

Starring Edward Frost (as Job), Bud Witte (as Father Elihu), and Larissa Lury (as Mara), “Does Your Heart Break?” is the story of a man who is continuously tormented by the recent trauma of losing his mother in a fire, Job, a 31-year-old seminarian on the cusp of priesthood, starts accepting his religious doubt. Torn by its tragic nature, Job fails to give a heartfelt sermon at the funeral of a 7-year-old boy. Through this, Job realizes he doesn’t have the faith, nor the knowledge, to become a priest. He abandons the seminary, and his father figure Father Elihu, arguing that the presence of evil cancels out the existence of God. For more information contact: doesyourheartbreak@gmail.com.
